

Paul Belanger

Subject: FW: Location and parking options for Sept. 14th EEE Forum on International Law and Climate Change Ethics

PARKING INFO

From: David Carlson [mailto:davidcarlson824@gmail.com]

Sent: Friday, September 11, 2015 4:48 PM

Subject: Location and parking options for Sept. 14th EEE Forum on International Law and Climate Change Ethics

Dear friends of the Ethics and Ecological Economics Forum,

A reminder that our Sept. 14th EEE Forum (2:00-4:15pm) on "International Law Perspectives on Climate Change Ethics" will be held at the Ricketson Law Building on the DU campus, north of Evans.

If you are unfamiliar with the DU campus, go to <http://www.du.edu/utilities/maps/> and search on "Ricketson Law Building."

Hourly parking ($1.50 per hour) is available beneath the Building.

Type: Paid Hourly Parking (Green Spaces)

Payment by pay station or scratch-off permit required. Pay stations accept coins, bills, Visa and MasterCard.

Spaces: 42 Regular and 4 Disability

Directly beneath the Law School, by turning right off westbound Evans Avenue between Lambda Chi and Kappa Sigma fraternity houses [the street sign reads "Gaylord Street"].

Another option is to use the free Iliff Visitor Parking lot at the NW corner of S. University Blvd. and East Iliff Avenue. Just mention "EEE Forum visitor" (and my name, if necessary) on the squawk box. Allow about 10 minutes to walk from there to the Ricketson Law Building.

I look forward to seeing many of you there!

Best regards,

David Carlson, EEE Convener